NUMBER THIRTEEN

SCHOOL WILL PETITION FOR J. C. OFFICERS

Only Associated Students May Participate In Official Election

Petitions for the nomination of student body officers will be taken out by the students of the junior college next Tuesday, it was announced by the executive board at its last meeting.

The petitions must be taken out by an associated student, and this student must obtain 25 signatures of other associated student ticket holders thereby endorsing his candidate for nomination. The petitions must not contain the name of any non-ticket holder, and no name may appear on any two petitions for the same office.

After the petitioners have obtained the specified number of names, they must nominate the candidate before the entire student body at a student body meeting in the auditorium.

The executive board asks cooperation of all students taking out petitions to see that only names of ticket holders appear on petitions. It is stated that if the students will carefully check their petitions, there will be less trouble when nominations are made. In the past some students have not been nominated because of the failure of the petitioners to check their lists. The board begs that here be no such mistakes this term.

Many New Books Placed In Library By Junior College

Many new books have been placed in the Junior College library, according to Miss Lillian L. Dickson, head librarian of the college. The new books that have been secured by the college are of both research and literary value.

According to Miss Dickson the most interesting of the new books is "Beyond the Blue Sierras", written by Honore Morrow. This book has been recommended for Mrs. Jennie L. Tessman's Pacific History course. The story takes place during 1775-1776, and has for its setting Mexico, Arizona and California. The characters in the book are Captain Don Juan de Anza, Don Antonio Bucareli, Dona Ana, Alonzo Valesques, Juanita Espinoja, and Father Garcis. The story follows through the opening of the overland route from Mexico through California. The book takes up two very interesting personages; Captain de Anza, the soldier, and Bucareli, the diplomatic viceroy.

The library has also received many books, states Miss Dickson, which will be of interest to English students of the college. For these students, the library has received two of Galsworthy's late books; "Maid in Waiting", and "Flowering Wilderness". Another book which has been ordered for literature is entitled "Titans of Literature", written by Barton Roscoe. The book takes up writers from Homer and Moore, and includes a list of nearly 24 authors.

Junior Lions Dine And Dance At S. A. Cafe Saturday Night

Kangaroo Court Is Part Of Entertainment Presented By Club In Second Major Event

Enjoying their second major social event of the semester, Junior Lions and their lady friends dined and danced at the Green Cat cafe Saturday evening.

Following cabaret style, the guests were seated four at a table. Decorations followed the Christmas theme.

Included in the special entertainment was a kangaroo court, called to order by his honor, Judge Bob McFarlane. Miss Lorna Doone Allen, defended by Lawyer Miner Whitford, was charged with lending to the delinquency of a minor (Willard Minor). Burt Winslow prosecuted the case.

Student Loan Fund Receives $100 In Lauder Concert

Approximately $100 was cleared at the Sir Harry Lauder entertainment last Friday evening in the high school auditorium and will be turned over to the Student Loan fund, according to President D. K. Hammond.

The program, which featured the Scotch comedian and a troupe of 31 entertainers was well attended, as witnessed by the returns from the sale of tickets.

The Lauder troupe is now appearing at the Philharmonic Auditorium in Los Angeles.

Gauchos Discuss Future Plans To Perform Service

Since a number of local organizations are contemplating an old clothes drive, the Gauchos, at Monday night's meeting in the home of Martin Lorenzan, Orange, decided to let ride their plans for a similar charity venture.

With Gordon Cudworth acting as chairman, the group entered upon the discussion of various campus problems. The untidiness in the student center, according to the Gauchos, was deplorable. Gordon Cudworth, Charles Warner, and Clarence Compton were appointed as a committee to talk with the Junior Lions over the prospect of cleaning up the center.

They decided that it would be a good idea to rejuvenate the old pansy bed and fill it with gold fish. Clarence Compton was delegated as a committee of one to investigate the possibility of getting permission to accomplish this end.

For the past six days Howard Barnes has been down with the flu in the Santa Ana Valley hospital. His condition has been so serious that a blood transfusion was performed Sunday. The club sent him a bouquet of flowers and a card, while several of them have made personal calls.

Desiring to start a little friendly competition, the Gauchos hope to schedule a basketball game with the Buccaneers. President Jimmie Quiggle will serve the formal challenge.

College Women Will Give Xmas Dance

All junior college students are invited to attend the Christmas dance sponsored by the Pan-Hellenic society of Santa Ana that is to be held in the Orange Women's Club house December 27. Proceeds of the affair will go to the Student Loan fund of the Santa Ana junior college.

Tickets for the affair will cost 75 cents each and can be purchased from Mrs. Northcross, Miss Anna L. Thrythall, high school instructor, or any of the service club presidents. This dance will offer students an opportunity to renew old acquaintances, as a large number of jaysee alumni are usually present, says Mrs. Northcross.

Geologists Will See Gold Mines During Vacation

Trip Will Be Made Through Borax Mining Region

The Kelly and Yellow Aster gold and silver mines at Randsburg, California will be visited by the mineralogy and geology students on their annual excursion over Christmas vacation.

The excursion will start December 17, and the students will first visit the Western Borax Company and the Suckow Chemical company in Imperial Valley. There they will see the largest deposits of borax minerals in the world. The next point of interest which they will visit will be the gold and silver mines. After a study of these they will continue the journey to the Atolia Tungsten mine and the eSaries Lake saline minerals. The group will have the privilege of watching the Cerro Gordo Lead district and Sierra Tale company in operation, according to Mr. Scott. The final portion of the trip will lead to the Darwin Zinc district and Death Valley, where they hope to view the Death Valley Colemante and the Pluto Salt pools. These points of interest are to be visited by December 23, says Mr. Scott.

The students will make the trip in private cars and will lodge in vacant miners houses and tents. It is possible that the excursion will be extended in order that the students may go from Death Valley to Beatty, Nevada where they will see the Ghost city of Rhyolite.

Dr. Dexter Speaks In Assembly Tues.

Dr. W. F. Dexter, speaking before the Letters and Science and Education group in divisional assembly yesterday endeavored to explain and reconcile the individual and society, as they are related to each other.

Dr. Dexter explained that there are four types of men. They are: the man who knows, and knows he knows. He is the leader and should be followed. The man who knows, but knows not that he knows; he is a lazy man. The man who knows not, and knows not that he knows not; he is the fool and should be ignored. The man who knows not, but knows that he knows not; he is the teacher and is to be taught.

According to reports Dr. Dexter was well received judging by the applause which he graciously acknowledged.

Jaysee P.-T. A. Plans Joint Xmas Meeting

Bachelors Start Christmas Food Drive For Needy

Donation Asked Of Those At Christmas Dance

Hoping to make the first annual food drive of the club a success, the Brotherhood of Bachelors, sponsor of the movement, are asking everyone attending the Christmas Dance to help them attain the goal set by bringing a can or a jar of food. This, plus an Associated Student ticket, will constitute the price of admission.

Those students who are not going to the dance will also be given an opportunity to help, for a large box will be left in the student office Monday to take care of their contributions. All of the food collected will be turned over to a Santa Ana charity organization to be distributed by them to needy families at Christmas.

In the past it has been the custom of the Bachelors to take care of one or more families at the Yuletide season, providing them with food and clothing. This year, however, it was decided at a recent meeting to enable every student in the college to help relieve the suffering of many unfortunate people of Santa Ana by bringing donations of food, and it was thought that by this plan a great many more could be helped this year than ever before.

Any kind of non-perishable food will be acceptable, according to Melvin Wiseman, chairman of the Bachelor Food Drive, committed, who states that the club hopes for support from all students because the food will be given in the name of the college and as large an amount as possible is desired. Corn, potatoes, beans, peas, condensed milk, coffee, sugar, or similar commodities are suggestion offered by Mr. Wiseman.

There will be a member of the committee at the door on the night of the dance who will take charge of donations.

Mustol Makes Call For Band Players

"Do you realize that Santa Ana junior college offers five classes of band work for students, from beginners to the most advanced player?" asks Samuel J. Mustol, leader of the jaysee band.

Mr. Mustol continues with "One fellow from Santa Ana junior college wrote to Caltech, asking the president of that school to outline a profitable course for him in preparation for university work. In the return letter, the president said that one should join the band or orchestra of your college if possible. This would render great benefits and much pleasure, as well as give valuable training."

Mr. Mustol used this illustration to indicate the advantages of a band training for students. The instructor concludes with, "There are approximately 40 musicians in the junior college, and less than half of these have joined the band thus far."

Dec. 14 Set As Date For Kappa Initiation

December 14 was the date set for Phi Theta Kappa initiation of new members, it was announced at the meeting of this organization last Friday.

Complete plans for the initiation have not been made as yet, but Las Meninas have promised to serve and the Spinsters will have charge of the decorations. All pledges are invited to bring their parents.

All old and new members will meet essay arrangements for the initiation in the near future to make all nection.

Pete Di Fabio, a student of the Santa Ana Junior College, was summoned to court on a forgery case last Wednesday. Mr. Di Fabio taken unaware while at work in the local print shop, and much to his amazement was not charged with forgery, but was only wanted as an interpreter.

Christmas Dance Tickets Are Now On Sale

Guest tickets for the Christmas dance are now on sale according to Miss Helen Bower, social chairman. The students desiring guest tickets must go before the executive board and receive permission to take any person not attending jaycee. The dance will be held at the Santa Ana country club, as has been the custom in past years, on December 17.

The executive board, after considering the price for the affair decided that all associated students should be admitted free, but that non-ticket holders, alumni and guests be charged 50 cents admission.

Buccaneers Make Plans For Annual Yacht Excursion

Calling a meeting for the purpose of discussing plans for the future the Buccaneers met in the home of Lorry Ridenour at Huntington Beach. Plans were discussed for the theatre party, the food drive and the annual yacht party.

The club plans to have a theatre party during the Christmas vacation and the tentative date is Monday, December 17. The business meeting adjourned and the members spent the rest of the evening in playing bridge and other card games. There were refreshments served after the games of cards were finished.

Those members present were Fred Brooks, Johnny Wells, Adam Lehr, Harold Ditmar, Rhodes Finley, George Lake, Bill McDaniels, Dean Hyatt, Bill Beeman, Dick Heffern, Guy La Vallee, Jack Wright, Clarence Lewis, Wendel Kanawyer, Walt Meyer, Earl Motley, Ray Hoar, Lorry Ridenour, and Jimmy Hathcock.

New Law Books Put On Library Shelves

The 31 volumes of California Jurisprudence have arrived at the jaysee library, stated Miss Lillian L. Dickson today. Now law students can look up their cases more easily for Dean McKee Fisk's law class. These books were placed in the library through a suggestion of Mr. Fisk.

Miss Dickson says that though the new books are not on the shelves at the present time, they will be in the near future and their use should save law students much time in briefing required cases.

Long Beach Junior College Wins All Honor In Contest With 54 Other Contestants

In order that they might hear students in their own class debate, five Santa Ana jaysee debaters attended the Redlands Invitational tournament last Saturday as non-participating witnesses, accompanied by Sheldon M. Hayden, debating coach for this college.

Students attending took notes on the debates, and endeavored to glean points of speaking that would help them in their own work, while Mr. Hayden helped judge the contests. He assisted in rendering decision in all debates except the finals, which he dropped in order to eliminate prejudiced judging, as he had heard all of the speakers before.

BENEFIT PLAY TO BE GIVEN NEXT FRIDAY

Program To Be Presented By Drama Class And Music Department

Eugene O'Neil's "Where the Cross is Made," and a modern musical travesty on "Romeo and Juliet" will be the features of a program to be presented by the drama and music departments of the junior college in their program for Student Loan fund benefit Friday evening in the high school auditorium. The price of admission is 10 cents.

The play is of very deep dramatic quality, according to Robert dePree, director, and is typical of O'Neil's work. It is presented by Ernest Crozier Phillip's drama department, and the cast consists of Jack Stedman, as Nate, the half-crazy son of Captain Bartlet, taken by Art Casey, who has waited many years for his ship to come in. Yvonne Nelson plays the part of Su, the daughter of Captain Bartlet. John Wells is the doctor from the assylum.

The operetta is a comical farce, playing on "Romeo and Juliet," with the plot laid in a college. Miss Myrtle Martin's men's chorus is presenting this feature, with Mark Hare as Juliet and Walter Workman as Romeo. It is a three act skit, and according to Mr. dePree is very, very funny. There are 40 singers in the cast, and men are taking women's parts.

Don Abnett, stage manager, is in charge of the stage sets for the programs, and Mr. dePree states that these are very realistic and add much to the productions.

Hall Meets With J. C. Presidents At Beach Confab

Tat student body president of California junior colleges are to meet whenever there is a meeting of the administrators, and that Long Beach junior college draw up a constitution for the organization was decided at the semi-annual president's convention held in Long Beach last Saturday, according to Gene Hall, president of this student body and attendant of the convention.

There were about 18 schools represented at the conclave, and although Santa Ana put in its bid for the convention, the opinion of the delegates went to choose Chaffey for the next meeting of the group. It will be held sometime next April.

After the business meeting the delegates lunched in the Blue Room of the hotel, and then went on a tour of the Los Angeles-Long Beach harbor through the courtesy of the Long Beach junior college. At 7:30 the delegates were entertained at a dinner-dance under the auspices of their hosts.

Mr. Hall stated that he learned how fortunate the students of Santa Ana junior college are in some respects. Some of the schools cannot hold their student body functions on the campus; other schools must have them all on the campus.

PRESS ASSOCIATION

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Shall It Be Ostracism?

An ugly monster that has always existed in small measure on the campus has this year suddenly assumed startling proportions.

This monster's name is Thievery. Usually it has confined itself to minor depredations but recently it has branched out into major activities.

The student body through negligence and disinterest is greatly responsible for present conditions. They do not seem willing to stand together in an honest effort to put down these anti-social activities.

It isn't as though there were a great many of the students criminally inclined but is rather a lackadaisical attitude on the many. The general opinion seems to be that if ones own personal belongings are not touched the problem does not effect him. Nothing could be farther from the truth; any and all acts that concern the student body also concerns each individual person.

Lately the football supply room was pilfered by MEMBERS OF THE TEAM. The team is always calling on the students to show sportsmanship and support the team. Certainly such acts of robbery are far from supporting the student body that has to pay for the material stolen.

Seemingly the best way to handle this particular case would be to deny letters to those players who are known to be guilty; they having been caught in the act of pilferage. Furthermore for examples sake they might be denied the privilege of participation in any inter-scholastic athletics.

Then, again last Thursday another car was stolen from the street adjoining the school. Such an act is not a misdemeanor, it is a felony.

Carelessness on the owners part was again responsible, to a degree, for the theft.

As long as we allow such low example of humanity to attend the school each person will have to carefully guard his own belongings. It is shameful but true that as long as present conditions exist each student will have to be his own detective-watchman.

The Associated Students, by action of the executive board, could deny all culprits from participation in affairs under their jurisdiction. Each club could take membership from many and all persons belonging to the organization who had been found guilty of any of certain acts.

In other words the problem could be adequately met by the strict use of ostracism by all persons in a position to enforce such action.

Other junior colleges in this district have much stricter rules governing student conduct than we do.

However, the faculty is not paid to act as policemen but exceedingly drastic action is undoubtedly imminent unless the student body shows an inclination to act in their own behalf.

Santa Ana Junior College is famed for its liberal attitude toward student control. Let it not be said that our method is a failure and that we had to revert to the strict faculty control prevalent in other schools.

Let us each watch his own belongings, keep his valuables locked and in other ways keep temptation from the way of our weaklings.

Bursting Tonsils And Ear Drums

Is this institution an overgrown high school or a college where students are supposed to act like men and women? A little sarcastic, perhaps; but it takes something stronger than friendly suggestion to take the girlish and boyish actions out of a good many jaysee students.

Simple consideration is deserving of a little recognition in the daily life about the campus. Consideration, at least, of the peace of mind of others.

Noise, just plain old unadulterated noise, is especially disconcerting to those who are attempting to absorb a wee bit of knowledge. A little noise goes some distance, but when it becomes so intense that the professor has to split a tonsil to be heard above the din; then it has gone too far.

Racket in the arches and along Pine street is a perfect replica of high school conditions—giggling girls and smart-aleck boys. The high feminine soprano and the low bass of Ford mufflers is anything but harmonious.

The board's action was a last resort, but a wise one. Violators will be given no quarter; on the first offense they will be assigned permanently to a high school study hall where roll is taken hourly.

THE EDITOR SPEAKS

THE EDITORIAL COLUMN expresses regret that action taken by the executive board is necessary. The idea cannot be overstressed that you are supposed to be almost grown up now and able to exercise a little self control. If you must shout and sing (?) go out on the football field. It won't bother any body there.

IF SOME of you students would return your overdue books to the library there would be more room on the bulletin board for love notes. Did you ever stop to think that most of those books are needed for study? Perhaps by your negligence you are making some other person get a D when if he could get the book he would get at least a C.

MAYBE YOU think all the lecturing about acting so much like high school students is done just for something to say. If you do you may just change your mind. A new student said the other day, "This is the most peculiar school, how do you tell the high school and junior college people apart?" The person speaking has recently transferred from an institution with about 5,000 members in it's student body. Think it over and don't be such youngsters.

MONDAY BLUES

Basketball next! How about the first practice game? Let's get behind the squad and let them know where they stand.

If the same spirit prevails throughout the basketball season that has been evidenced in football and the various social functions, there can be no founded criticism of student support.

Furthermore, your support will not be in vain. The Dons are going to have a cracking good quintet, what with several of last year's stars back and a number of prep "hot shots" gunning for first string honors.

Bob Edwards: How do you like our school?

Charlie Vavra (visitor): "O. K. but where are all the good-looking women?"

Bob: Oh, we had one, but she was rushed so much that she ups and transfers to Fullerton!

Pete "Carideo" DiFabio earned a nice wad of jack last Wednesday afternoon at the city court house. He was employed as interpreter for a gentleman from Anaheim who was up for a preliminary hearing on a two thousand dollar forgery charge.

Pete managed to pay off all his old bets, i. o. u.'s, take his girl out, and play the stock market.

It was after a bridge party and Clyde Westmoreland and Lucy Harper were preparing to depart.

From one of the revelers: Well, good nite, Lucy, be good!

Lucy: We have to, we're in an Austin!

Mrs. Gail S. Smith is showing a motherly interest in her prodigies. Last Wednesday she advised Dot Ensign, who has been down with the flu, to take cod liver oil to regain her aver-du-pois.

Who was that smiling little oriental flapper that took Wig Kanawyer to the Huntington Beach football dance Saturday night? His excitement, Jean Berry, is throwing the proverbial heim.

Mary Malsed is evidently losing her technique; she has yet to get her soph-frosh dance program from Dean Benton.

Gene Hall is a patient soul. At the jaysee presidents' meeting in Long Beach Saturday our hero paced the floor of a dating bureau for two hours before his order was fulfilled. After the drag at the Cocoon Grove he sighed: Oh well, she could dance!

Saragrace Frampton has to go home to Artesia early so that she can milk the cows before it gets too dark.

Alma McDonald's cold is attributed to early morning fog on Lemon Heights.

Who was the boy friend that escorted Mary Malsed to see "The Conquerors"? It must have been good; they stayed in the theater for three and one-half hours.

BOOKS, MUSIC, ART

BOOKS

Probably the most interesting book to come off the press recently is the biography of Arthur Putnam, at one time one of the world's foremost sculptors of animal life.

Usually I do not care for biographies but this man's life was such a poignant tragedy that it makes the book most interesting.

Putnam came from San Diego to San Francisco in 1894 and there established his reputation. He was to have been appointed Director of Sculpture for the Panama-Pacific Exposition, but a tumor developed on his brain.

With the removal of the tumor went his sense of proportion and self control.

Putnam fought with a will to regain his former ability and he had almost regained it when he died in Corot's village of Ville d'Avray in 1930 almost entirely unremembered. For all his one time fame he died a truly forgotten man.

MUSIC

Lotte Lehmann soprano, is scheduled to sing Tuesday night at the Los Angeles Philharmonic Auditorium. She comes highly recommended both from Germany and New York.

Lehmann's programme is quite ambitious. It includes four numbers of Brahms, four from Strauss, two each from Schubert and Schuman, and four other numbers, each from a different composer.

A complete and satisfying programme is promised those attending the performance.

The Philharmonic Orchestra is not in concert this Thursday, but you may listen to them from KFI at eight fifteen o'clock the same night. Look in the Thursday morning paper for their programme.

Perhaps there are still some who have not yet heard the "Isle of Golden Dreams" offering each Wednesday at nine thirty o'clock over KHJ. May I suggest to any who have not that they take time out from their studies and listen.

The programme is more than worth while. It is the most soothing, and restful kind of music. It is an absolute tonic for flighty nerves.

The programme is, I believe, the best radio offering originating here on the coast.

ART

A December showing of works by Southern California artists has opened at the Los Angeles museum.

Many people will find the show entertaining but the fact that it is in the museum precludes any chance of it being anything but ordinary. The curator positively refuses anything that is not academic or nearly so.

LAN' SAKES

That's why I'm lying here, wrecked in body and soul, Aggie. Everything just went wrong from the time I got up to put the cat out. Give me some tea. No, no cream, just sugar.

Well, in the first place, it wasn't Alice Pincherry (that's the cat) that woke me up. I was dreaming I was walking down Fern Avenue without a stitch on but my three petticoats and my gray woolen hug-me-tight. I don't know what was smy feet—I didn't have time to see. I woke up in a cold sweat and just lay there and quivered, Aggie, quivered. The cat was waiting for me to let her out.

I make it a point not to argue with Alice when she wants to be put out.

I leaned over the side of the bed to reach for them brown crocheted slippers and one of my curlers, the one I got at the World's Fair, caught in that tatted doily and pulled the family bible that's always by my bed, on to my head. There's a print of every curler in my scalp right this minute. Well, I recovered from that, figuring I was just being punished for putting five cents less in the collection last Sunday.

I stopped by the base-burner to see if it was going. There I made my mistake. Oh yes, it was going. But I turned to go to the door and I saw a man's shoe sticking from under the bed. I'm not the flighty kind, Aggie, but I could feel my hair standing on end, curlers and all. I don't remember if I screamed but I do know my legs gave out. I came to, sitting on the stove with Alice climbing all over me. And there, coming from under the bed was Spot, who had been chewing on one of father's old gaiters.

That's why I'm lying on my stomach and drinking tea over the side of the bed, Aggie.

CHIC FEMMES

The tricolor idea runs riot on the newest frocks of the season—topping sleeves and enhancing the fronts of bodices.

Sleeves on the formal evening frocks may be embroidered; ruffle effects reaching almost to the elbow.

Evening is really the correct time for bright red fingernails—or any of the bright colors sometimes used—daytime one should wear less conspicuous nail polish—if one would be smart.

Almost all evening frocks have removable cape or jacket effects which add greatly to their charm and distinction.

Rinestone bracelets and necklaces continue in favor, a new note being the front fastening of the necklace. The dinner dress should be long, not sweeping the floor, but somewhere around the ankle or instep.

Shoulders will be covered, whether definite sleeves or a prolonging of the shoulder line. Necklines are likewise to be high in front, though a dinner dress with sleeves might surprise you with a deep cut in the back.

A little hat is in order for dinner dates, for the theatre, and for some formal occasions.

Your formal evening gown may be of the most sumptuous fabrics but its lines will be the simplest, and its trimmings will be very discreet. It should be floor length, but never sweeping the floor.

Gold and silver slippers are coming back this winter. Some gold with silver piping, and many brocaded ones. Long earrings are the vogue, also a bracelet to match, with no necklace—this is unusually smart.

No matter how seldom or how often you wear evening dress, it is worth while to have every accessory right and every detail distinctive. The ensemble should be dramatic, rather than any of its parts.

If one is to be dressed in the height of fashion this year, one's shoes must match one's frock, however subtle its shade.

He asked the girl to meet him In some dark corner, where No-one would ever see them, And they could talk with care.

As soon as class was over, He rushed right to her side; Together down the hall they walked, Hoping they weren't espied.

At last, he found the spot to hide; He grabbed his new-found mate—"When will you find a girl," he cried, "Who'll soon give me a date?"

objection to the name of the Long Beach jaysee "Y" discussion group, it has been changed from "Bull Session" to "The Toreadors".

At the University of Redlands the girls are required to be in their dormitories by a specific time while the boys can enter their own any time in the night they wish. It has been reported that the reason is that the authorities believe that once the girls are in their dormitories, the boys will soon retire to their own.

SOUTHERN CAL TITLE IS WON BY PASADENA

Stark Is Star For Champs
As Heavy Tiger Squad
Loses To Pasadena

With 162 pounds of dynamite in the person of one Ed Stark as the spark plug of a second half rally, Pasadena junior college made a gallant come-back in their championship game with Riverside junior college to win the Southern California junior college title by a 12-7 score. The game was played at the loser's home field.

The meeting of the two teams was a result of their winning the championships of their respective conferences. It also marked the third straight time that the Riverside Tigers have lost Southern California title chances to a western junior college.

Riverside Has Power

Riverside power plays were predominant for practically the entire first half, with the Nichols brothers, quarterbacks, and Rogers, versatile fullback, logging the pigskin for considerable gains through a lighter Bulldog team. It was only the stellar goal line defense of the Tiger forward wall and the subsequent marvelous kicking of Riordan, a tackle who pulls out of the line to do Pasadena's punting, that saved them. Riverside, as a result could score only once. Rogers started the ball rolling by intercepting a Bulldog pass and returned it to the Pasadena 42 yard line. From there Rod Nichols passed and ran it to Pasadena's 35. On the next play the rambling Nichols went around end for a touchdown and placed kicked the extra point.

Pasadena Scores

The second half was as much Pasadena as the first half was Riverside. One Bulldog drive went as far as the 3 yard line but the ball was lost on downs. They could not be stopped, however, and in a few plays they were again knocking at their opponent's goal. This time Stark went over from the one yard line. Hensly missed the chance to tie the score. The final touchdown of the game was made by Captain Miller, Pasadena end. The pass was the result of an intricate play in which Stark faked a power plunge over right guard, passed the ball to a guard that had pulled out of the line, who in turn flipped a backward pass to the end who went around end for the score.

Tigers Become Desperate

The Tigers then made a desperate attempt to score and were only stopped by an incomplete pass over the goal line.

Riordan was the outstanding punter of the game and consistently kicked from his own 30 yard line to the Tiger goal line, keeping the Riverside safety continually in hot water.

Although the dynamic Stark was given a great deal of invaluable interference and blocking by his teammates, it was his playing that inspired the Bulldogs on to a hard-earned victory.

$240 Realized by Unemployed In Charity Game

Approximately $240 has been received from the Long Beach-Santa Ana jaycee football game last Friday evening for the use of the unemployed of this city and more money is expected to come from tickets sold in Long Beach, according to a report made today by the Unemployed Association of Santa Ana.

"Every dollar we get," says E. E. Peck, secretary of the organization, "goes for the purchase of food for the unemployed." He also points out that although some foods are donated, staples like coffee and sugar are never donated so they must be bought. To procure money to purchase these food staples, football games and barbecues are held.

Football Depression Too

Football is on the point of being abolished at the San Diego State College. This is because the college suffered a $3500 loss on this years football season. Who knows but what this marks the beginning of the end for small college grid athletics. Plans are going right ahead for next season's schedule at the Border institution, but they can not stand another loss in football like the one they suffered this year.

On the other hand, however, there isn't another small college on the coast that hasn't taken at least a small drop. Next year will probably see a drop in all small colleges grid prices.

Over-confidence

In spite of their overwhelming victory over Herbert Hoover high school in the C. I. F. play-offs, the Santa Ana Whispering Saints still showed their "never fail to appear" overconfidence. After getting down to their opponent's goal on long drives during the first quarter, they were amazed to find that the other team wouldn't fold up and let them have a touchdown. And while they were still in their amazed condition, four downs passed to find them three or four yards farther back and San Diego's goal still uncrossed.

Anchors Aweigh

For the first time since 1927 the Army and Navy have met on a fairly amicable basis. This happened last Saturday when the two teams met on the field of battle with the Middies as hosts, unwillingly or otherwise. The meetings in the last couple of years have been on a purely charitable basis.

The fuss all started on a disagreement over eligibility rules. That in itself would not have been enough to start the feud but the ball was caught on the roll by several doddering old congressmen who made it their business to see that these colorful games were stopped. No wonder the poor taxpayer pays and pays and nothing is ever accomplished. But between the schools the crux of the controversy was the age limit. You are eligible to enter Annapolis between the ages of 16-20. Admission to West Point is from 18-22 years, giving a margin of two years on their side. The question to decide is—does greater man power off set matured man power in reduced bulk?

Anyway, at length the Navy capitulated, which was only right since they had provoked the argument. Or in other words, the Army trimmed their sails.

LOCAL CO-EDS LOSE HEAVILY AT J.C. GAMES

Santa Ana Women Win Only In Tennis Singles At Compton Playday

Tennis saved the day for Santa Ana jaycee at the Playday held at Compton last Saturday. Junior colleges represented were Long Beach, Compton, Fullerton and Santa Ana.

Dunn, winning with a 6-3, 4-6, 6-1 tally, played first singles against Long Beach. Second singles were captured by Fullerton with Billie Gabrielle representing Santa Ana. Of the two doubles teams, Fullerton defeated Ernestine Wakeham and Leha Dahher with a 6-3, 6-3 victory, and Long Beach won a 6-1, 6-4 match from Mary Helen Bell and Virginia Rugg.

In basketball both the freshman and sophomore teams went down to defeat. The former suffered a 30-11 setback at the hands of Compton, while the latter lost to Fullerton 34-7.

The volleyball victory was captured by Compton in defeating Santa Ana 47-21.

Referees for the games were coaches from U. S. C. and U. C. L. A.

More than 40 feminine athletes, accompanied by Miss Zena Leck and Miss Mabel Robinson, journeyed to Compton for the contest which was preceded by a rally held in the gymnasium at 9:00 a. m. At the conclusion of the games a luncheon was served to the many participants. The day was climaxed by a short musical program.

Jaycee women who took part either in basketball or volleyball were Phyllis Cole, Martha Humes, Evelyn Furtch, Ardith Parham, Dorothy Tedford, Elizabeth Downie, Margaret Hoefner, Francis Miller, Marion Seavey, Betty Stork, Gladys Palmiter, Margaret Cox, Margaret Harper, Barbara Copeland, Alma McDonald, Ruth Crowl, Suzanna Alexander, Kay Bement, Irene Boyer, Josephine Norton, Alline Buck, Joan Buell and Marion Brownridge for the freshman; and Lucille Harper, Francis Curl, Irene Ross, Betty Walker, Ruth Juhl, Helen Mott, Lois Lamb, Adwain Smith, Mary Nalle, Margaret Guard, and Audrey Teel for the sophomores.

Lightweight Team Idea Hits Snags

Movements which have been under way for the past two months to organize lightweight teams in jaycee athletics have run into several difficult snags. The coaching staff pointed out that a practicing place could not be obtained. All four classes of high school teams and the jaycee outfit must practice on the present floor. Another team could hardly expect to get in much practice under such crowded conditions.

Fullerton, our arch rival in all sports, seems very anxious to add lightweight teams to their present sports program. A delegation interested in the movement came over last Wednesday and talked with James Quiggle, local champion of the lightweight teams, about possibilities of putting the plan in to effect.

As our gym is very much overcrowded under present conditions, the Y. M. C. A. downtown gym has been considered as a likely place to practice. At present no definite plans have been formulated, but every effort will be made by those in charge of the movement to put it over.

"Good Ole Suth'n Hospitality"

Last year, when the Bears of California went down to Georgia for their game with Georgia Tech they were entertained by none other than the king of all golfers, Bobby Jones. The California and Southern coaches have a strange custom. Neither team scouts the other before their games. My, what a surprise each will have in store for the other!

In a recent eastern game one team had a hide-out. He was just about to receive an easy pass and go for a touchdown when the referee, not seeing the hide-out and thinking it was a wild throw caught the ball right out of the hands of the hide-out and threw it back. He was taken from the field under police protection.

A. A. U. Metric Ruling Will Not Affect Jaycee League—Cook

Track fans need not be worried about the new A. A. U. ruling substituting metric measurements for yards and feet insofar as the local track is concerned, is the opinion of Coach Bill Cook. The jaycee leagues will continue to use the old system of measurements in the coming track season, according to present reports.

Like many others Coach Cook is opposed to the change. "It will abolish tradition and lessen in the sport," is the belief of the local mentor. "No one will care to witness a sprinter win the 100 meter dash in 10.3 seconds or a shot putter win his event with a mark of 16 meters even though these marks may be comparatively as good or better than the old marks under the old system. Athletes will have to become used to the new distances as many races are not comparative in the two systems."

SPORT SHORTS

All over the country sports scriveners have squawked about the work of grid officials this year. Most of them see to have been pretty terrible. The bulk of the trouble arises from the fact that competing teams have the right to name arbiters. This is wrong. The officials can't help but be biased—if they pull 'em too raw against the team which picked them, they know they won't be hired again.

They should be appointed by a disinterested conference head and then be considered as employees—if their work is unsatisfactory, demote or fire them.

The death of Carnegie Foundation again reports that football throughout the land is "corrupt." 'Stoo bad! So's politics.

Notre Dame studied motion pictures of 1931 Trojan games for their clash with the Los Angeles team on December 10. It'll be too bad if the Ramblers prepare for those formations, because Howard Jones' 1932 team is using an entirely different style of play this year. Seven regulars, including Pinckert, Shaver, Baker, Williamson, Musick and others, were lost last season—hence the change in styles.

The rules committee made a lot of alternations last year to "cut down injuries." Football's toll this season is 37 deaths—so maybe the rules committee had better change the game back to the way it was before.

To elect a captain or not—that's the question bothering footballers at Pennsylvania. And when you get right down to it, in this highly commercialized, expensively coached era, doesn't it seem rather absurd to elect a captain?

About all he really does is to call the flip of the coin and admit to the referee that his team is ready to play when kickoffs occur. Nearly always the selection of a leader results in ill-feeling on the part of the defeated candidate and his supporters—and this tends to disrupt teamwork. In no few instances captains are selected because they have more fraternity brothers on the squad than some other deserving player.

As long as the coaches run the games these days anyway, why not let them also act as captains?—they do everything else.

Cub Co-eds To Take Up New W.A.A. Sport

With approximately 100 women out for W. A. A. the hockey season at Los Angeles jaycee is now in full swing.

Before Christmas a preliminary round will be played, and after vacation the final round will take place, according to the Junior Collegian, official paper of the college. Women will not be put on teams for the preliminary round but will play on teams according to hours which they go out for practice.

Women desiring W. A. A. credit for tumbling must be present at ten practices.

Jim Thorpe, world famous athlete, put on a kicking exhibition between halves, and taking his years into consideration Mr. Thorpe did

Zimmerman Leads Tennis Contest

Although December 1 was the date originally announced as the terminus of the ladder tournament to select charter members for the proposed tennis club, Coach Patton, sponsor and coach, has been forced to set Feb. 1 as the final date as more time is needed in which to fairly determine ratings.

After a tentative rating determined by drawing of lots and a few challenge matches the twenty-five prospective members are rated in the following order: Ernest Zimmerman, Harry Nissley, Douglas McAdams, Walter Carruthers, Cecil Slaback, Orris Davis, Bob Hafer, Bill Mills, Don Shirey, Cardwell Oglesby, Bernard Dillon, George Curtis, Jimmy Quiggle, Al Copeland, John Schrier, Harold Christiansen, Burton Alloway, Herb Diebel, Mark Hare, Orville Plumlee, Bill Beeman, Thomas Meece, Charles McFarland, William Courtney and James Noel.

Any player may challenge either of the two next higher than he. A player so challenged must play the match within three days or go to the bottom of the ladder. Challenger must furnish balls. A player defeated must wait a week before scheduling a return match.

Zimmerman defeated McAdams 4-6, 6-4, 6-4; Nissley defeated Hafer 6-2, 6-4, and McAdams 6-2, 6-3; Christiansen defeated Diebel 6-0, 6-4; and Alloway defeated Diebel 6-4, 6-1 in matches to date.

Chaffey Basketball Prospects Are Good

With thirty or more expectant candidates well started out on the practice schedule, the Chaffey junior college basketball team is looking forward to another successful hoop season.

According to Coach Mitchell, the Panther mentor, the first week of practice will cover fundamentals and conditioning of the players. With an abundance of material on hand, Coach Mitchell will start his practice contests with a tussle with some local team on December 10. The league's schedule is slated to begin after the Christmas holidays. This long practice season is especially advantageous for it offers the team ample time to mould itself into a working combination in time for more serious competition.

This year's squad of men will have a heavy assignment if they are to equal at the record of former Mitchell teams who during his four years of coaching at the Chaffey institution has produced three league championship teams, and one Southern California and one state championship team. Needless to say Coach Mitchell and Captain Klumb are optimistic over this year's chances.

U.S. C. Invites Pitt For Rose Bowl Game

The cocky Big Ten received a pedal massage in the after portion of its pantaloons last week, when Southern California invited Pittsburgh to play the annual New Year's game in the Rose Bowl at Pasadena.

Michigan wanted to come—informed the western officials that the conference would undoubtedly rescind its rule against post-season games. But the west is rather fed up on the high-and-mighty attitude of the midwest outfits—especially Fielding H. Yost. A few years ago Purdue was anxious to come west for the game. Last year Northwestern desired to make the trip. Both times the Michigan director of athletics held aloft both hands in horror and swung enough votes to prevent such a thing.

So this year, when the Wolverines very well, some of his kicks spiraling sixty yards down the field. Entertainment for the 1000 spectators, was rounded out by Santa Ana high school's band, the American Legion Drum Corps and a special clown skit by "Lo-Lo".

Smith Scores

Near the end of the third quarter Santa Ana started their lone scoring drive. Wally Smith took Moss's punt on his own 40 yard line and returned it to the 34. Wally hit right tackle for four yards. On third down Bowden, Don full, faded back and tossed a pass to Jim Lash for a first down on the enemy 10 yard marker. Smith picked up three yards at center. He added three more on a smash at right tackle. On third down Mr. Smith went around right end, evaded several tacklers, straight armed one, and crashed over for the score. A high pass from center nullified their chances to convert.

Bell Injured

Near the end of the first quarter Porky Bell twisted an ankle and was forced to leave the game. Up until this time Porky had been running the opposition ragged with his powerful off tackle smashes and trick end runs.

A personal total of 43 yards was chalked up by Mr. Bell. One of his jaunts, a 28 yard run around right end, put Santa Ana in their first scoring position. After his removal the team failed to click until near the end of the game.

Backfield positions, especially quarterbacks, seem to be jinxed on the Don team this year. First to go was former captain, Jim Hall. Wally Smith cracked a couple of ribs and was forced out of several games. In the Chaffey game Harold Welty injured his knee and was lost for the remainder of the season. Hideo Higashi was forced out in the final league game with Fullerton. The last man to go was Mr. Bell in the final game.

Kelly Mean was the outstanding backfield man for the Long Beach eleven. Knox, Moss and Jordan in the backfield and Mooney and McLane in the line were the mainstays in the Viking attack.

The Lineups:

Santa Ana (6) Pos. (0) Long Beach
Lash.....LER..... Mooney
Koral.....LTR..... Brown
DeSmet.....LGR.....(c) Abrahams
Meisinger.....C..... Stover
Heffern.....RGL..... Kolda

won the title, Yost figured that the $50,000 or more cut to be obtained by playing at the Rose Bowl would come in handy in raising the mortgage on the Ann Arbor stadium. And just when he had won over the rest of the conference to the idea, U. S. C. invited Pittsburgh!

Anyway, the west coast isn't so thrilled over Big Ten teams. The only one that ever played a New Year's game—Ohio State—was beaten, 28 to 0.

English Students Visit Huntington Memorial Library

Following in the footsteps of the Tavern Tattlers, approximately 30 students visited the Huntington Library at San Marino last Wednesday that they might view the special collection of Tudor Drama now on exhibit there. The students, the majority of whom are enrolled in the English Literature class, were chaperoned by Mrs. Robert Northchors.

This collection, including the works of William Shakespeare and Ben Jonson, consists of popular drama from the reign of Henry VIII through the reign of Queen Elizabeth, the last of the Tudors. Much attention was also given the famous old map of London which was made in 1616 and is now preserved as the basis of many present copies.

Other manuscripts of special interest to the students were the Gutenberg Bible, the first bible ever published in that form; original manuscripts of Poe and Kipling; and the collection of small books known as "the traveling library".

The group also visited the art gallery which contains the original of Blue Boy, the cactus grove which covers about a square block, and the Japanese tea gardens.

Parent: "Yes, if kindness fails."

Tavern Tattlers Attend Playhouse

Members of the Tavern Tattlers club saw Shakespeare's "Henry VIII" at the Pasadena Community Playhouse last Friday. The members were accompanied by Thomas H. Glenn, adviser for the club, and Miss Agness Todd Miller, English instructor, who stated that a splendid program was presented at the performance.

The actors, in costumes ranging from the rainbow-hued clothes of the Duke of Norfolk to the somber red robes of Cardinal Wolsey, figuratively carried the audience back almost five centuries with them into the reign of "Bluff King Hal", so real did they make the play seem.

The three most dramatic scenes of the play—the execution of Buckingham, the fall of Wolsey, and the death of Queen Catherine—were all said to be portrayed with touching tenderness, seemingly holding the audience spellbound.

Ex-member Party Planned By Moavs

Plans for an alumni party to be held the week after Christmas and tentative dates for coming affairs were discussed at the Moav club meeting held at the home of Miss Althea Lemke, president.

Miss Catherine Chapman was appointed chairman of the alumni party. Further discussion concerned the annual formal dance and a possible house party in the spring. New members extended an invitation to the old members for a Christmas party to be held in two weeks.

At the opening of the meeting, two pledges, Miss Eulabelle Smith were absent from the previous meeting, were formally initiated.

After the meeting Miss Lemke served refreshments to the following members: Misses Natalie Neff, Vivian Rogers, Winifred Ball, Esther Vogt, Jeannette Lutes, Carolyn Mueller, Lila Nightingale, Kay Gorath, Ardith Parham, Frances Larrabee, Catherine Chapman, Jeanne Lieve, and Miss Frances Egge (adviser).

Journalists Given Intelligence Tests

Journalism students are taking tests to find out the correlation for English rhetoric and newspaper work, as prepared by John Kingsley, who is working for a master's degree in English at the University of Southern California graduate school.

The tests consist of a 50-word spelling test, a general English theme, an Iowa Silent Reading test, and a Cross English test. Results for this test at Santa Ana junior college will be sent Edgar M. Flowers, head of the journalism department, by Mr. Kingsley, along with a cross result of the some 10 or 12 jaycees in Southern California.

These tests have no effect on students' grades in journalism as the work is just being done to assist Mr. Kingsley, as well as to help get an idea on how much the average journalism student knows about grammar. It might be interesting to know that students in all colleges wrote on "My Most Exciting Ride" for the English composition.

Funds For Annual Award Discussed

Plans to raise funds for the annual prize given to the outstanding student in jaycee were made at the first Beta Gamma meeting, held last Wednesday at the home of Duncan Harnois. The short business meeting was followed by a social period at which bridge was the main diversion.

The Beta Gamma is an honorary society formed for jaycee students outstanding in ex-curricular activities. Every year new membership is decided upon by the present members of the organization.

The members present were Misses Elizabeth Palmer, Saragrace Frampton, Katherine Chapman, Marian Parsons; Messrs. Gene Hall, Duncan Harnois, and Mrs. John Tessmann, advisor.

Longfellows Asked To Appear In Theater

An invitation by the Fox West Coast theater to put on a fashion show was received by the Longfellows club, according to Doug McAdam, president.

Al Copeland's home at 727 Hickory Street, Santa Ana will be the next meeting place of the Longfellows to be held tonight at 7:30. Every member is urged to attend as there is much important business to complete.

Bachelor Pledges In Final Initiation

Final initiation ceremonies for Bachelor pledges were conducted at Monday night's meeting in the home of Gordon Minder, Anaheim. The thirteen scums, Dean Benton, Bomo Koral, Bruce Handy, Bud Essert, Bob Wilson, Jim Lash, Paul Junkeit, Mike Vidal, Alex Clark, Paul Hansen, Dick Gardner, Jack Havens and Ernie Farnum, were put through nearly six hours of rigid "tests" by the old members.

Following the "business", refreshments of jello, cake and coffee were served. The entire evening was devoted to the ceremony, which was divided into two sections, the formal and the mock initiation. Jack Weatherly, Paul Bruce, and Jim Goodfellow were the committee responsible for the chastisement of scums.

Old members present were Bill Campbell, Gene Hall, Hideo Higashi, Mike Santa Cruz, Henry Thierry, Jim Goodfellow, Garth Olsen, Harold Benton, Duncan Harnois, Emmett Seacord, Jack Weatherly, Harry Clayton, Paul Bruce, Melvin Wiseman, and the host, Gordon Minder.

Christmas Edition Of Paper Omitted

Strictly is an economy measure, the journalism department and the print shop will not publish the customary Christmas magazine. A six-page edition of El Don, published Wednesday, December 14th, will take its place.

The idea of a Christmas magazine was first realized in 1927, with the printing of a four-page green section. Since that time, the project was repeated and enlarged upon annually, until it reached its peak a year ago.

This publication is essentially a gift to the students, and entails a good deal of expense. With the rounding of that proverbial corner, this custom will undoubtedly be resumed.

L. A. Police Find Missing Vehicle

Los Angeles police located the car belonging to Raymond Forrest which was stolen near the campus Dec. 1.

According to the owner of the car it was left parked on South Ross with the keys in it, and when he returned it had disappeared. The club advisor, Horace Scott, offered his cabin, located just this side of Lake Arrowhead, for the Gauchos' use during Christmas vacation. If it snows, a sojourn at the mountain resort will be seriously considered.

Gentlemen present were: Jimmie Quiggle, Gordon Cudworth, Clarence Compton, Fred Pinkston, Wilton Hilliard, DeWitt Bishop, Charles Warner, George Farquhar, H. A. Scott, John Frisbee, Sharkey Plum-

Clubs Taxed For Non-Ticket Holders By Control Board

Service clubs having assessments or dues will be taxed 75 cents for every student in their membership not holding an Associated Student ticket. The Executive board, in a past meeting, decided that students should not be barred from service clubs because of inability to purchase tickets and applied the tax.

There were only two service clubs on the campus in years past that could be joined without Associated Student tickets; the Breakfast Club and the Y.M.C.A. Now non-ticket holders can be members of any club, and that club will be taxed 75 cents for him. Roy Wheeler, member of the board, states that it will undoubtedly be an improvement over the policy of other years.

Presidents of all campus clubs have been asked by Gene Hall to send in lists of their members, so that they might be checked with the list of student tickets in the office.

"How are you getting on with your job, Bill?"
"Fine, I've got five men working under me now."
"Really?"
"Yes—I work upstairs."
